-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 30 March 2004.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 3 and 4 recites the indefinite term "high boiling point." The metes and bounds of the above term cannot be clearly delineated, as the specification fails to set forth the metes and bounds of what is encompassed.

All other claims depend directly or indirectly from the rejected claims and are, therefore, also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph for the reasons set forth above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102 (b) as being anticipated by Tamaoki et al. (JP 407025764A, abstract).

Applicant claims a method of inhibiting the growth of bacteria comprising contacting the bacteria with an antibacterial agent (i.e. food or oral care product) comprising a coumarin analogue.

Tamaoki et al. anticipate the claimed invention (see, abstract) because Tamakoi et al. teach an antibacterial agent comprising a coumarin analogue (i.e. 5-geranoxypsoralen or 5-geranoxo-7-methoxycoumarin or 8-geranoxypsoraleni, also please note that Tamaoki et al.'s antibacterial agent is also extracted from the pericarp, the peel, of a citrus fruit) that would inherently inhibit the growth of bacterial when contacted and would inherently be a food or oral care product because the coumarin analogue are derived from a food product of a citrus fruit lemon. Therefore, the reference is deemed to anticipate the claimed invention.

Please note that the patentability of a product (claims 2-4) does not depend upon the method of production. If the product in a product by process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, then the claim is unpatentable even though the prior art product was made by a different process. (see, e.g. MPEP 2113).
